About us:

The IWFS is the world's oldest and most renowned gastronomic society outside the trade, with more than 6,500 members and over 130 branches worldwide. It was founded in London in 1933 by André Simon CBE, Legion d'Honneur, and the Society now has branches in almost 30 countries. M. Simon was a dedicated and knowledgeable gourmet and a connoisseur of fine wines. His writings are well respected and his books collected by lovers of good food and wine throughout the world.

Our aims:

"The object of the Society is to bring together and serve all who believe that a right understanding of good food and wine is an essential part of personal contentment and health and that an intelligent approach to the pleasures and problems of the table offers far greater rewards than the mere satisfaction of appetite"

Andre Simon, founder

Do join us:

To quote M. Simon again: "The first of all considerations is that our meals should be fun as well as fuel." The Society welcomes members of all ages around the world and prides itself on the high quality of its events whilst retaining the fun, and the immense pleasure, that sharing good food and wine can bring.

We are always delighted to welcome new members - why not join us?

Benefits of Membership include:

The opportunity to meet like-minded people at Branch activities and at the Regional and International events which take place roughly once a year.

A quarterly magazine 'Food and Wine' with news and reports from and about the European and African membership, book reviews, events diary and topical culinary and wine writing.

An annual wine vintage guide incorporated into your credit-card sized membership card.

Access to the Society's reference library, the 'André Simon Collection', housed in the magnificent Guildhall Library, London.

Members discounts :-

- Reduced rate club facilities at the prestigious Naval & Military Club in London.
- Benefits from the Secretariat include research, contacts, guides and subject knowledge, book club, merchandise etc.
- Reduced admission charges to many major food and wine exhibitions.
- Discounts at leading hotels and restaurants.

Branch Activities

The Branch structure throughout the IWFS forms the basis of members' activities. Branches are run by their own committees and are as diverse as the members who belong to them and the countries in which they are situated.

Some typical branch events:

Wine tastings – some regional, some focussing on grape varieties, some tutored, some informal.

Thematic events – gastronomy of a country or region; puddings and dessert wines; wines with cheeses, chocolate or fruit; discussions about wines and foods with expert guides.

Visits to vineyards, cheese-makers and other specialised producers, comparative tasting of products.

Specially planned restaurant meals, cookery demonstrations, self catering events in members homes or other venues.
